ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Through this acknowledgement we express our sincere gratitude towards all those all those people who helped us in this project, which has been a learning experience.

This page would not be enough to extend our gratitude towards our project Mr.P.Vijay Bhaskar for his efforts in coordination with our work and guiding in the right direction. A heartfelt regard to our institution management Rev.Bro.Arun Prakash,Correspondant and Mrs.Jayanthi Reddy, Principal for giving us the essential hand in concluding this project.

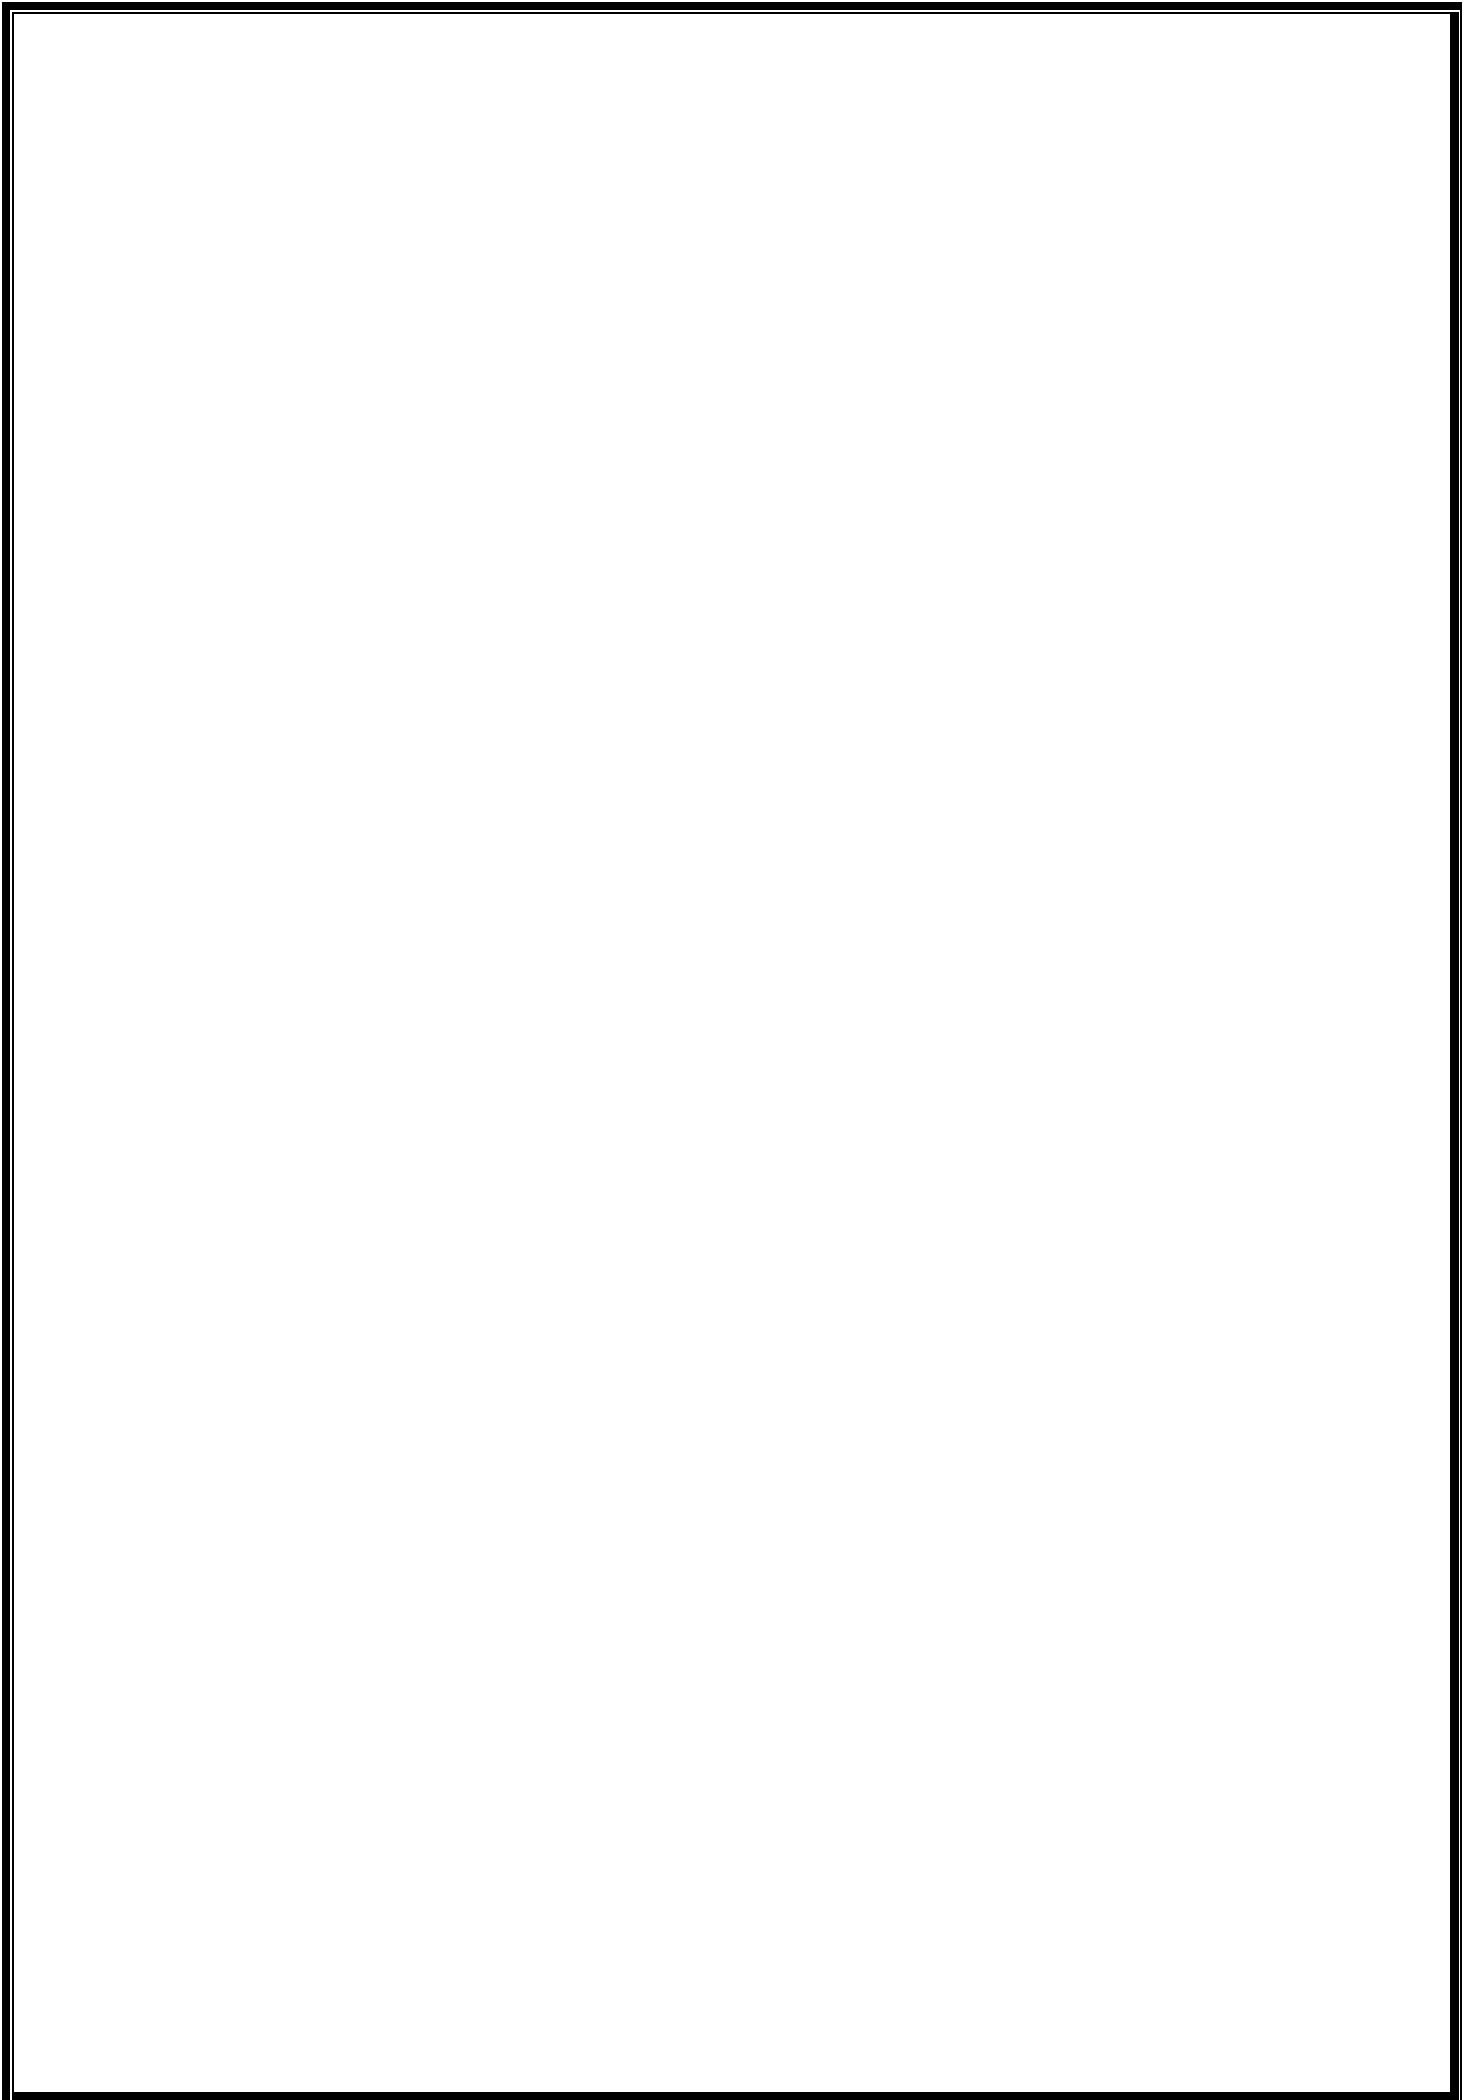

It would be injustice to proceed without acknowledging the vital support I received from my beloved classmates and friends. I also use this page to offer my sincere love to my parents and all other who had been there to help this project.

ABSTRACT

The "Honest Review's" web application is a dynamic platform crafted to revolutionize the movie review experience. Note:

We value your interest in exploring movie reviews on our platform. As much as we'd love to provide the PHP code for every movie individually, it's not practical due to the sheer volume of movies in our database.

Instead, we've opted to showcase the PHP code for two representative movie files. Please note that the PHP code structure remains consistent across all movie files, with only minor variations in names, reviews, and movie information.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.

  <h2>Story</h2>

    Viraj (Nani) is a professional photographer. He is a single parent taking care of his 6-year-old daughter Mahii (Baby Kaira Khanna). No matter how many times Mahii asks Viraj about her mother, the latter never says anything. At last, Viraj agrees to talk about his wife only if Mahii scores the first rank. Mahii does that, but Viraj doesn't keep his word. Irritated by this, the little girl leaves the home. Yashna (Mrunal Thakur) saves Mahii from an accident. How Yashna changes the lives of Viraj and Mahii is what the film is about.

In the world of 'Hi Nanna', road accidents play a major role. If an accident puts an end to one relationship, another accident, which was averted, marks the start of another relationship. Six-year-old Mahi (Kiara Khanna) is a child suffering from Cystic Fibrosis. She is being raised by her single father, Viraj (Nani), a top photographer in Mumbai. Viraj has refrained from sharing Mahi's mom's story with her until now.

Cinema, more often than not, errs on the side of the exceptional. We are told once in Hi Nanna that the probability of a positive event happening is 0.1%. And unsurprisingly, it is these unlikely odds that trump reality and save the day. Doctor-turned-filmmaker Shouryuv imprints his career transition in Hi Nanna. Medicine is reality. Cinema is the dream.

Hi Nanna, a much-anticipated film of the season, directed by Shouryuv and featuring Nani and Mrunal Thakur, lives up to expectations, offering a cinematic experience rich in emotional depth. The 155-minute runtime expertly explores the nuances of love, marriage, and parenthood, maintaining engagement and feeding the soul.

The performances by Nani, Mrunal Thakur, and Kiara Khanna bring the heartwarming family drama to life. Their portrayal of vulnerabilities and the essence of the father-daughter bond is commendable. Nani's post-Dasara transformation adds a fresh touch to his character, while Mrunal displays versatility with panache. The chemistry between the lead actors is palpable, making their on-screen moments a delight. Their characters are intricately layered and thoroughly explored. Whether stepping into the shoes of a photographer, depicting the desperation of a father, or conveying the longing of a lover, Nani strikes all the right chords, and Mrunal beautifully compliments him.

Some stories urge us to suspend our disbelief and give in to their charm. Destiny and the power of love drive debut writer-director Shouryuv's Telugu film Hi Nanna. This tale that introduces us to beautiful people in picture- perfect settings has a few nostalgic tropes such as a pet dog being a catalyst at crucial times. It is cinematic but comfortingly familiar. The leading man, actor Nani, portrays a single father, wearing his heart on his sleeve and making us well up in tears, and Mrunal Thakur revels in the portrayal of her layered characterisation. Hesham Abdul Wahab's background score is a foil to this tale that sometimes sounds improbable and demands that we set our cynicism aside. Does it work? How much one enjoys this film depends on whether we accept some of the reveals as the narrative progresses and embrace it with its rough edges.

Hi Nanna” transcends expectations, providing a cinematic odyssey that intertwines heart and soul. While occasional predictability and pacing concerns emerge, the film’s emotional richness, outstanding performances, and artistic elements harmonize harmoniously, resulting in a captivating viewing experience. Shouryuv, Nani, Mrunal, and the entire cast collaboratively sculpted a splendid film that resonates profoundly with the audience, establishing it as a must-watch for those searching for an emotionally resonant family drama.

This year starts with a Blockbuster What does an cinema need fun, emotion, action, drama, entertainment, story etc It doesn't miss a thing each and every scene one after another keeps you entertained, some scenes are literally goosebumps! Terrific and unique story. A start for his universe. No words about the cast each and every person have justified their roles even the child artists. I mainly appreciate getup sreenu timing and his character. Even Teja sajja, Satya and samuthirakani played their role very well.They take you to past those visuals at last about the war happening in future is next level Main element is that is the VFX it makes you feel night budget movie it's worth Varma! Those places are mind-blowing. Cinematography and DOP every member of the crew needs a apprection because of this perfect recepie they have made.At last prashanth Varma and his crew did a perfection.If they gets support I am sure they gonna be make this greater than Marvel or DC

No doubt in it.At last remember the name PRASHANT VARMA

It's really an entertaining and great film especially for kids and even adults can enjoy where VFX and visuals are really beautiful and outstanding to experience visual appealing in every mass and goosebumps moment of Hanuman. what a vision and direction of Prashant Verma really can't wait to see him in future of Indian Cinema and can't wait for Jai Hanuman in 2025 sequel for Hanuman. Only South Indian filmmaker can only show pure

Hindu God in such cherish and beautiful way. There were also great comedy moments in the movie and it becomes perfect superhero comedy movie. Performance by Teja Sajja as Hanumanth was really great and he looked perfect for this role, Amritha Aiyer was really great and looked so beautiful and gorgeous in the movie, Vara lakshmi sarath Kumar was really excellent in her role, Vinay Rai as Super villain Michael was really brilliant, Deepak Raj Shetty, Vennela Kishore , Getup srinu, etcetera was really good in their roles. Music, songs and soundtrack was really fantastic in the movie literally goosebumps. Only negative point was routine storyline and too much long duration. Rest movie is really enjoyable and great to watch.

This movie doesn't feel like it was made with a mere budget of 25Cr+ just like 'Kantara' this film outshines any biggy film. No way this film is perfect but the attempt by the makers, artists involved in this film deserve a big applaud to pull it off. Having 24x times less budget than lord "ADIPURUSH" film what Prashanth has achieved is nothing less than extraordinary. I see this film along with "Minnal-Murali" as stepping stones for what is going to come in future years in our Indian Cinema. Heartily grateful to all the filmmakers from southern India who gave the confidence to every filmmaker in India including Bollywood(though they lack soul in movies). Big shout out to Sir S S Rajamouli, he is the one who started it all when nobody dared/thought. Indian rooted historical stories are much more richer than any other stories you can read/find anywhere. If filmmakers in India don't capitalize on this then the day is not far that Hollywood and others filmmakers around the world will dig deep in our culture and make it their own just like "Game of Thrones" inspired heavily from "Mahabharata" just the treatment is different. A must watch film for those who are not familiar with Indian culture... Facts might be wrong which is not the intention of the film but the depiction of fiction/story/history is great... Looking forward for "Jai Hanuman" movie

Director Prasanth Varma, who shot to fame with films like Awe and Zombie Reddy, has once again teamed up with young actor Teja Sajja to bring us HanuMan, a Telugu-language superhero film, as part of the Prasanth Varma Cinematic Universe. The Sankranti release, also starring Amritha Aiyer, Varalaxmi Sarathkumar, and Vinay Rai, intricately weaves together elements of Indian mythology with a contemporary narrative. The film presents a classic confrontation between two central characters: Hanumanthu, the deserving bearer of divine power, and Michael, the antagonist driven by his desperate pursuit of the same supernatural abilities. Prasanth skilfully integrates familiar elements from various sources, blending them with CGI, thereby enhancing the protagonist's supernatural presence in the village setting. The story also delves into the rural dynamics and struggles of Anjanadri, including a love story and the challenges faced by villagers under oppressive practices.

Hi Nanna

Release Date : December 07, 2023

Starring: Nani, Mrunal Thakur, Baby Kiara Khanna, Jayaram, Priyadarshi, Nassar, Angad Bedi, and others

Director: Shouryuv

Producer: Mohan Cherukuri (CVM), Dr. Vijender Reddy Teegala

Music Director: Hesham Abdul Wahab

Cinematographer: Sanu John Varghese

Editor: Praveen Antony

Natural Star Nani has now come up with the romantic drama, Hi Nanna. The movie stars Mrunal Thakur and Baby Kiara Khanna in vital roles. It is directed by debutant Shouryuv.

Story

Viraj (Nani) is a professional photographer. He is a single parent taking care of his 6-year-old daughter Mahii (Baby Kaira Khanna). No matter how many times Mahii asks Viraj about her mother, the latter never says anything. At last, Viraj agrees to talk about his wife only if Mahii scores the first rank. Mahii does that, but Viraj doesn't keep his word. Irritated by this, the little girl leaves the home. Yashna (Mrunal Thakur) saves Mahii from an accident. How Yashna changes the lives of Viraj and Mahii is what the film is about.

MOVIE CRITIC REVIEWS

Times of Indian

Director: Prasanth Varma

Producer: Niranjan Reddy

Music Director: Gowra Hari, Anudeep Dev, Krishna Saurabh

Cinematographer: Shivendra

Editor: Saibabu Talari

Story

Hanumanthu (Teja Sajja), hailing from Anjanadri, is a petty thief. He has an elder sister, Anjamma (Varalaxmi Sarathkumar), who takes immense care of him. Hanumanthu loves Meenakshi (Amritha Aiyer), who also belongs to the same place. Gajapathi (Raj Deepak Shetty) pretends to be the savior of Anjanadri from bandits, but he exercises control over the villagers. One day, Meenakshi revolts against Gajapathi, which makes the latter attack the former. While trying to save Meenakshi, Hanumanthu lands in trouble. This is when Hanumanthu finds a precious stone through which he gets superpowers. What happened next? How did Hanumanthu use his superpower

Times of India

Director Prasanth Varma, who shot to fame with films like Awe and Zombie Reddy, has once again teamed up with young actor Teja Sajja to bring us HanuMan, a Telugu-language superhero film, as part of the Prasanth Varma Cinematic Universe. The Sankranti release, also starring Amritha Aiyer, Varalaxmi Sarathkumar, and Vinay Rai, intricately weaves together elements of Indian mythology with a contemporary narrative. The film presents a classic confrontation between two central characters: Hanumanthu, the deserving bearer of divine power, and Michael, the antagonist driven by his desperate
